Lisa Jmith-255-8858-

Lisa,
It was great
have you in the Classes the even though your both sucked, Hang
bitchen Summer!
Jesse

Lisa,
Hi! How ya doing?
This year has been
one hell of a school year. I'm glad I sort of "met" you this year after 7th grade. Keep up the smiles & take care of yourself.
Always,
Lisa

P.S. Let's give me a call sometime
and we can party!
Bye!

Lisa, It was great knowing you this year. Have a good summer. I hope I see you this summer. Stay well, I'll try to keep in touch etc.
Love,
Roy

Lisa,

So the year is finally coming to an end. . . Considering all the times that we've quit, it's amazing we're still going to be a big sophmore next year. I bet you are just known as the biggest and craziest freshmen around. Afterall we did some pretty weird things. Wouldn't you say? Anwell I thought this year was a blast, even though we got stuck on Father shouldn't have gone to the Menlo formal with Herald and Eric. Remember getting stuck in the bathroom. What a joke. Remember that? Remember through the few upsets we've had (we still have a great old cause of fun friends. Look-out SUMMER!

With much, much, much amour,

Jamie

Smiph!

Don't ask me how I got that name, I probably started it because you always had food in my mouth when I didn't want to talk to you. Next year just like all this year, I guess you are something. Do you remember our first but together. Do you remember getting pulled for me or something that we did some more time together and when you told me about your dad throwing you across the room. Things changed so much since 7th grade. Little did I realize then that you would be one of the best boyfriends I've ever had and one of my lover friends. I'm sure glad that we were gonna be looking back on what a strange thing fate is) well, all assholes are gonna be like you and I can say what I want. I love ya like you're a brother to me. We have another over the summer, maybe we can go somewhere and do something

when I called you or when we saw each other we'd drop everything we were doing and go see each other. I'm so glad my friendship
Love
Pam

Love ya don't hope ya
mind me writing
on this page
or that I'm any way better
writing Great to
to know
hope couple
the summer
don't part!

excitement built up as the chaotic summer months approached. we looked ahead to lazy days in the sun and mad rushes to prepare for evening outings, little sleep, and lots of parties. running around, busy, busy, and going non stop, thoughts blended into one as june, then july, and finally august were left behind. time, people and school stepped out into the clearing, casting vivid shadows. new jobs, new schedules, new lockers, new classes, new teachers, new friends encompassed us. time to settle down and rearrange; time to make a change; time to find a new pattern. seniors come back and invade the campus, some taking posts where they've hung out since their freshman year, others seeking new ones. class of '79 here, there, everywhere, except on campus (oh, is school in session?). juniors, finally upperclassmen, start to look like they know what's going on (do they really?). not yet on top, but already getting sick of school, there's no such thing as junioritis. sophomores can not push around the freshmen (now, now you were there too); '81 an odd but enchanting year for our tenth graders. stick it out two more years you guys. finally we have our freshmen: curious, lost, skeptical (will we ever be out?). struggling to fit in. where should we eat lunch? do you think the seniors will knock me off this bench? don't worry little ones, you'll get big too. your time will come as all of ours will. it happens to every class, at every school, every year. it's a continual pattern. lynbrook high school students, an elite and aware crowd. each morning as the sun rises, so do 2,500 san jose and saratoga residents, struggling to make it before that second bell (i can't afford another tardy!!). they stalk through those golden gates weary eyed and yawning, wanting only to dispose of last night's books. we head for our lockers, a most prized possession on campus, but will we ever get used to the new paint? the day passes like any other day first period through seventh, with varying spurts of energy and excitement intermingled between classes and during lunches (where does everyone hang out fourth period?). as we scan the campus, we see new and unfamiliar places, yet they all look like the same people; we all look the same; we are one united mass. we notice that the green leaves have returned to all the trees after last year's beastly treatment (we didn't pull off too many leaves, did we?). even the garbage cans sit quiet and comfortable in the same places they always occupied. everything surrounding us seems stable in spite of its uncertainty; only the names have been changed to protect the innocent (but who is innocent at lynbrook?). we are each equally important parts in the mosaic of our ASB, pieces in a unique puzzle, essential parts that make up our PATTERN.

Caravan

Lisa,

Spanish was fun; remember that colage, I'll never laugh again. Dandy Don, Green Greg and life-less Larry made it interesting. It was great bugging them because they have to be the stranges in our school. The few times we sat together was really fun cause we got to talk once in awhile. Say "Hi" to your sister for me.

Love
John

Lisa, aquacade was such a blast! I'm sorry i missed the banquet! I hope you go outt next year 'cuz i'm gonna come back to see you all! Have a great summer (Don't party too much!) and take fun as a sophomore.

patterns: patterns repeat themselves. they are consistent and constant. changes: changes repeat themselves. they are consistent and constant. "the sands of time are eroded by the river of constant change."—peter gabriel. we, the class of '79, are now aware of this change. it's that funny feeling we get when we look back over our high school years. did we look like those foolish freshmen? did we pride ourselves as studley juniors? and now, when we've finally realized that we are seniors, the song is over and the music has stopped. it's all behind us. the thrills of going to our first football game, going to dances, hanging out at mcdonald's having parties, getting our license, getting our first job, and going on our first date. it has rolled up and crawled into a quiet corner in our minds. the awareness of ourselves and excitement of our future has been turned on. it is time to look ahead, to step aside and let this continuous pattern flow without us as the leaders.

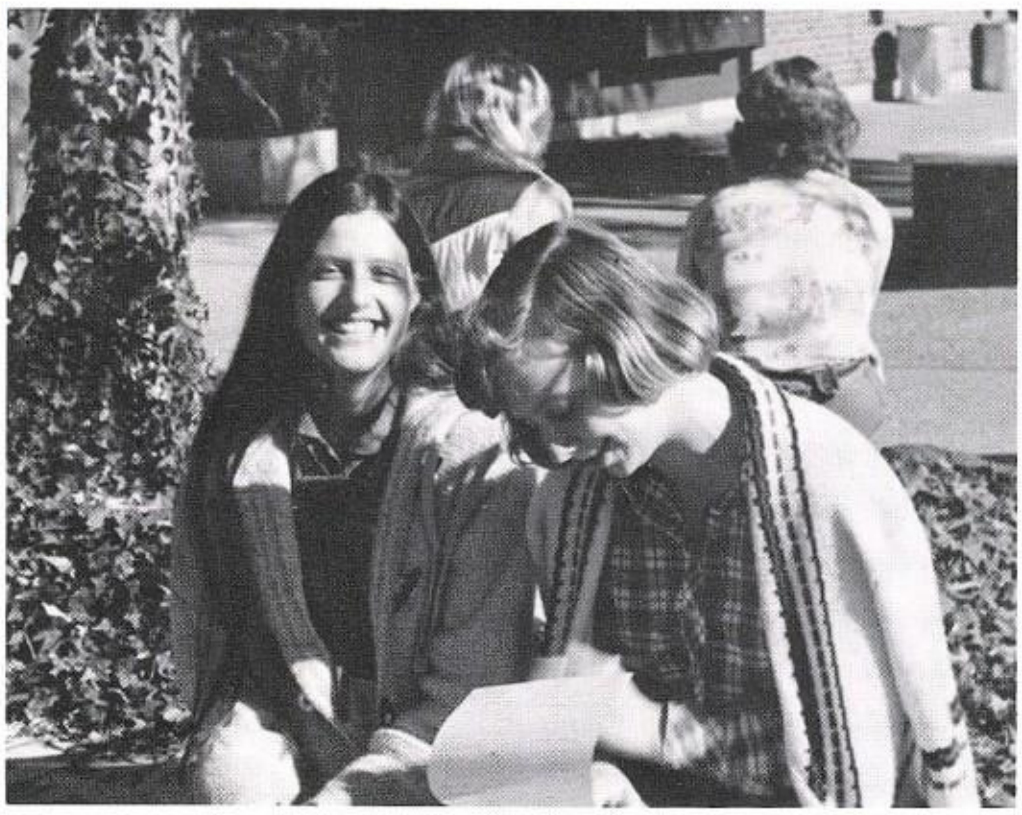
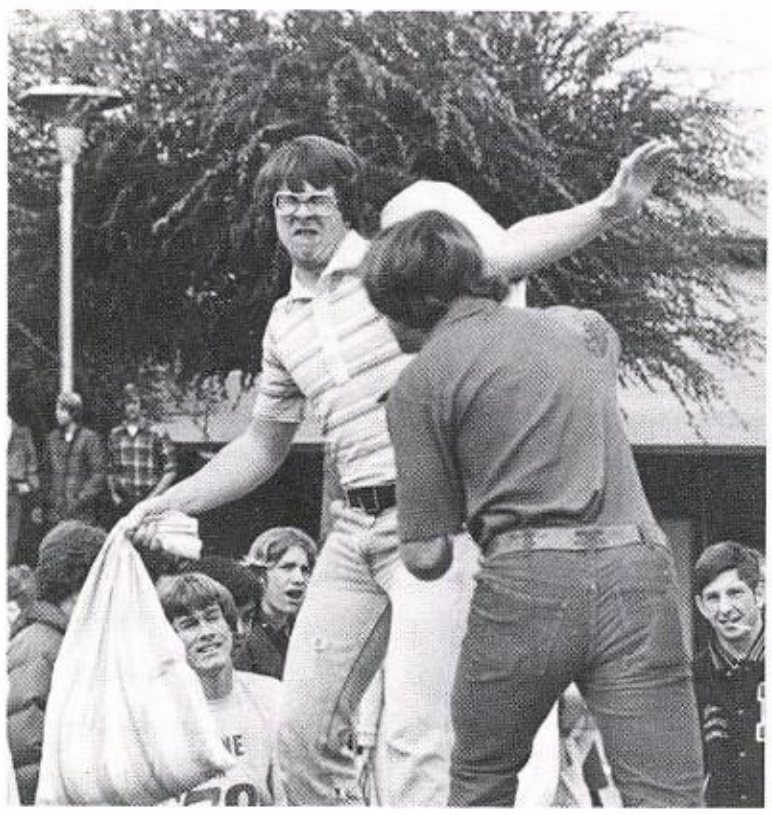
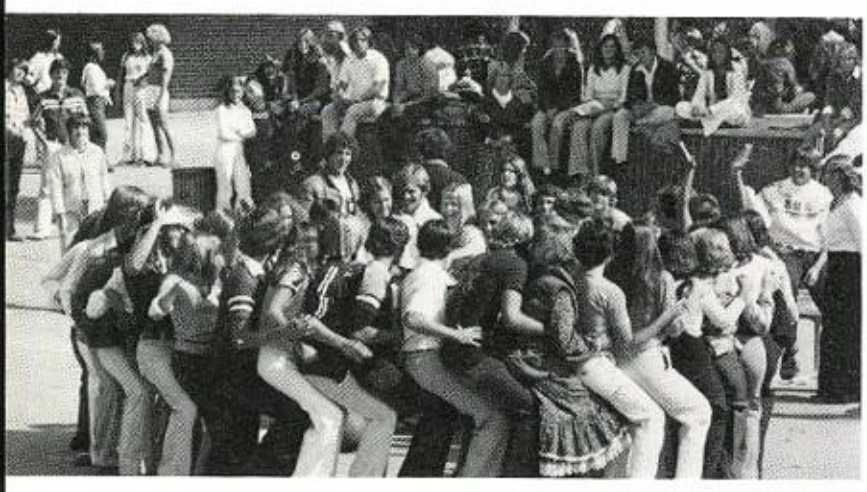
Lisa,

Hi, so how does it feel getting out of Yearly's Class? To me it mean clear air! His breathe really bit a hot one! This class was great, the people were great! You're really pretty and sweet! Have a great time in Hawaii, see ya next ~~time~~ year!

Luv,
Mary







Oh, Zits!

They come at the worst possible times. And they come for a lot of reasons.

Maybe a wet washcloth you left around for days. Or your cosmetics. Or even your soap.

But you can be sure of one thing.

You didn't get them because you ate that candy bar. No matter what anyone says, zits just aren't caused by chocolate or greasy foods.

So what can you do? Keeping your skin clean and healthy is still the best bet. For a difficult case, see your doctor.

Stop by your pharmacist for free information.

And while you're there, find out about the Zits Contest.

You can win a $500 gift certificate at the Record Factory. Second prize is a $200 gift certificate. Third prize is a $100 gift certificate.

yes, we were leaders. leaders in scholarship, leaders in spirit, leaders in athletics, leaders in insanity, and leaders in partying. remember when we ranked second in the district? remember when we transformed the rally court into a beach? remember when water polo won ccs? remember when we stayed up all night to paint "our place in the sun?" remember everyday after lunch? yes, we remember. we could never forget these most treasured years of our lives. after all, who could forget their senior year? certainly not the class of '79.

Lisa.

I've really missed seeing you these past few months. I would really like to see more of you. I think you're super foxy & really sweet. I hope I see you this summer so we can do something together. I thought it was great for that short while, seeing you almost everyday, riding cycles & whatever. I had better see you this summer or maybe Bill even stops by.

Love ya,

the marching band took on a new look and sound this year with mr. stroud as director. performances, led by the new drum major, greg lamy, and music coordinator, don pak, gave us excellent entertainment at the football games. the new look was thanks to the new, versatile uniforms, which many people thought were a long time coming. the total disorganization at practices (witnessed by at least one yearbook photographer) would make the stanford band proud. keep it up and wait 'til next year!

m-i-c-k-e-y- s-t-r-o-u-d! yes the lhs band sings out, even when they should be playing, under their fearless director, mr. stroud. they attended the tournament of bands and placed high, in spite of their close call - disqualification due to an early start (whew!). the "drummers" do it with sticks and mr. stroud does it with demerits (but only when he's provoked). the band never fails to support their football team with our favorite song "lhs-yes! lynbrook vikings are the best!" (thanx ucla). if you can't get the beat, then you can't beat what you get and the band has got it all.

hola! that's what the lhs choir said when they made their debut at the festival in mexico city. our talented singers had to earn 22,000 dollars on their own with raffles and stationery sales (didn't think you could do it did ya?). 225 people appeared at the choir banquet to grab a sneak preview of the upcoming fall musical, "music man", and the annual christmas concert. this year our choir was so good (how good was it) . . . that we had 10 individuals try out for the state honor choir. but to us, here at lynbrook, all our singers are winners!

once again the red, white, and blue shined their spirit at the '78 jamboree. our faithful drill team dominated the card section dressed in blue, while the rest of the viking fans made their appearance in white clothes (except the two fools dressed in togas). we only flashed our cards twice attempting to spell out lhs (nice try). the crowds packed in waving pom poms, to watch our ferocious football team demolish, . . . well, outplay, well . . . how about beat homestead by one point? and we won't even mention the sunnyvale scrimmage. seating was limited in all the school's sections including the mushroom section. our spirit leaders kept the crowds roaring and out of hand! not a difficult task, was it girls? as the jamboree came to a close people shoved through the mob in a mad rush to cure their big mac attacks and the younger folk (who don't drive yet) went home to bed, falling asleep to the melodious tune of "lynbrook vikings, hats off to thee . . .".

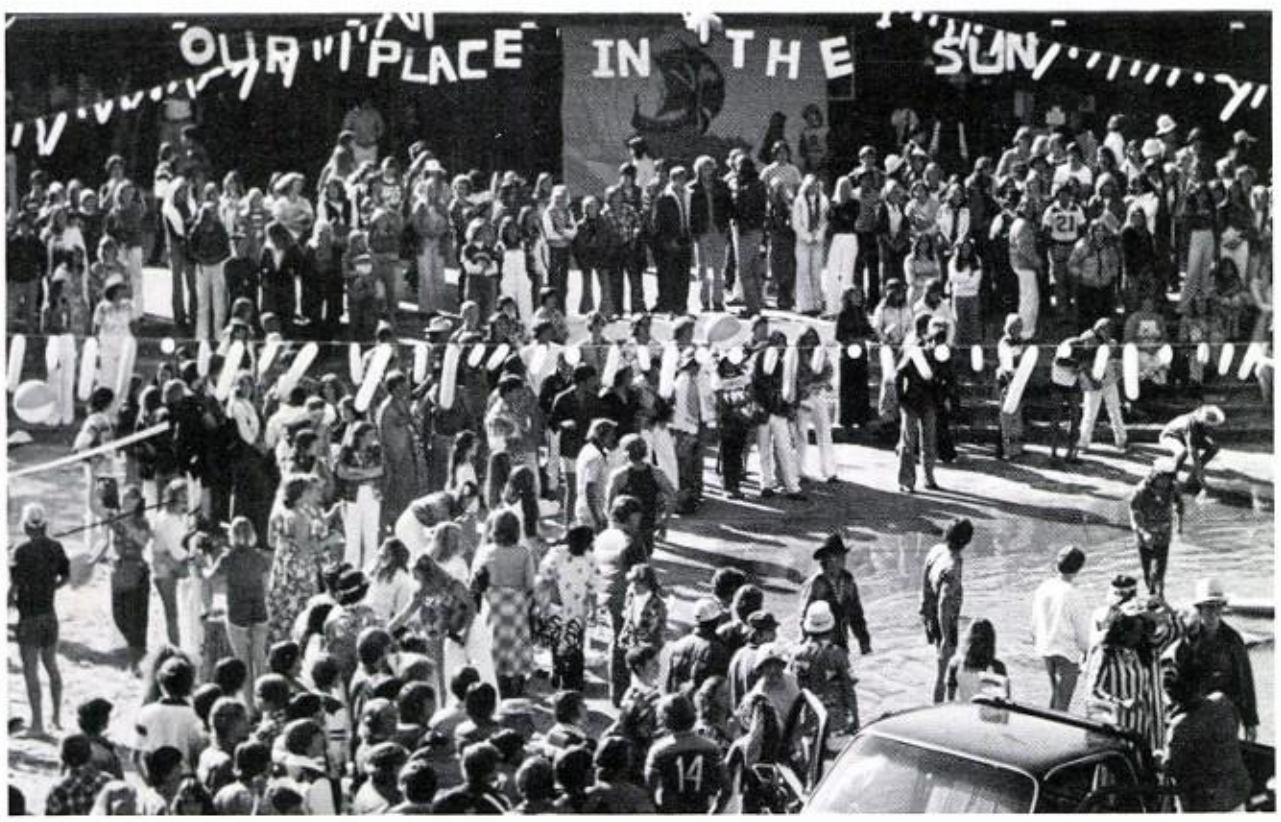
homecoming week



drill team

"dependent am I . . ." rang out the motto of the valkyries drill team and dependent are we, lhs, on them. our valkyries represented us well, as often as possible, even if it meant traveling (how much farther to turlock?), a champion squad who could be caught on campus frequently, engaging in wild kicks and awkward moves, transformed into a colorful and graceful unit under the lights at football half-times; it sure beats practicing in the rally court! the two captains-boom boom and linda-kept their brigade organized, attentive, spirited and last but not least, smiling.

the sadie hawkins dance with everyone "cuddlin in the hills" was a success once again. the cuddlers were dressed in all types of costumes ranging from little miss muffet and her spider to keystone cops and convicts. we were proud to have year-books' own spike herrick as marryin' sam and constance andolina as marryin' sal. thanks to them, in spite of several slips in the marriage vows; "do you promise to grow i mean mow the grass?" and "do you promise to beat, oops! feed the kids?" greg hannah was crowned king irresistable with steve macdonald, scott milstead and the baroni brothers helping to sweep those gals off their feet. this dance, the ladies treat, was full of excitement as smiles swept the dance floor while we stepped to the beat. and, for those of you who didn't grab your guys soon enough, better luck next year.

"tis the season to be jolly!" this is why one hundred couples attended our christmas ball. this year, for the first time, this elegant dance (did you get your boyfriend in a tux, girls?) was held in a hotel, the holiday inn. the dance floor was crowded but our stepped-on toes didn't take long to heal in that posh ballroom, at least it wasn't the cove. ivory tower provided the music which was very . . . original (ha, ha). dinner discounts were arranged for the cheaper members of the crowd (sebastians, anyone?). we certainly won't forget this most cherished investment.

the executive council was at it once again this year, trying to save money while spending it regularly. our good friend john chooses committees democratically by appointment (if it works, do it!). keeping order is lots of fun when active listening is exercised and cliff puts down the baton. communication is a major ingredient in the exec. recipe, but somehow the mailboxes serve as lockers instead of couriers. 7:15 a.m. is just too darn early to get our thoughts going, but, infallibly, by 7:20, officers, commissioners, and spirit heads fall (literally) into place. ideas are contributed, juggled around, tossed out or incorporated to make lynbrook asb activities complete. in spite of student complaints, we always have fun and we owe it to our executive council.

paste-up today? really? "hey annie baby-tell us a joke!" bottoms up guys! hi ya jeff! hi there davey-where's our composer? you want what by 3:00?(!) how do you spell ? mommy, mommy guess what . . . isn't this ad gorgeous! cutlines, what cutlines? oh, i forgot to tell you, i need that story in an hour. there's a note in your box . . . no we don't have anything to do with the yearbook staff! boy i sure wish we did. beeecheeey? motormouth, wilson and gossip gums are at it again in the corner. "heidi, quit cheering and type." vic and

valhalla

editor-jody- remember that night in san francisco? we won't tell.

assistant editor-liz- where's your typewriter?

business manager-lee ann- did you work if off skiing, or did those chocolate chip cookies get to the bottom of things?

copy-lisa- what's another word for . . .?

girl's sports editors: kathy- "coon" martha- how's your diet?

wherever sb goes, mb follows.

guys sports editors: steve b.-watch those hands!

brian K.- i don't like cheese eggs!

faculty editor- brian a.- if you want a good shot, you've gotta get to the top, and if you get to the top, you gotta come down!

senior class editor-steve w.- steve's here, but where's steve?

underclass editor-mary- underclass editor? rah! bet you can't wait 'till you're a senior!

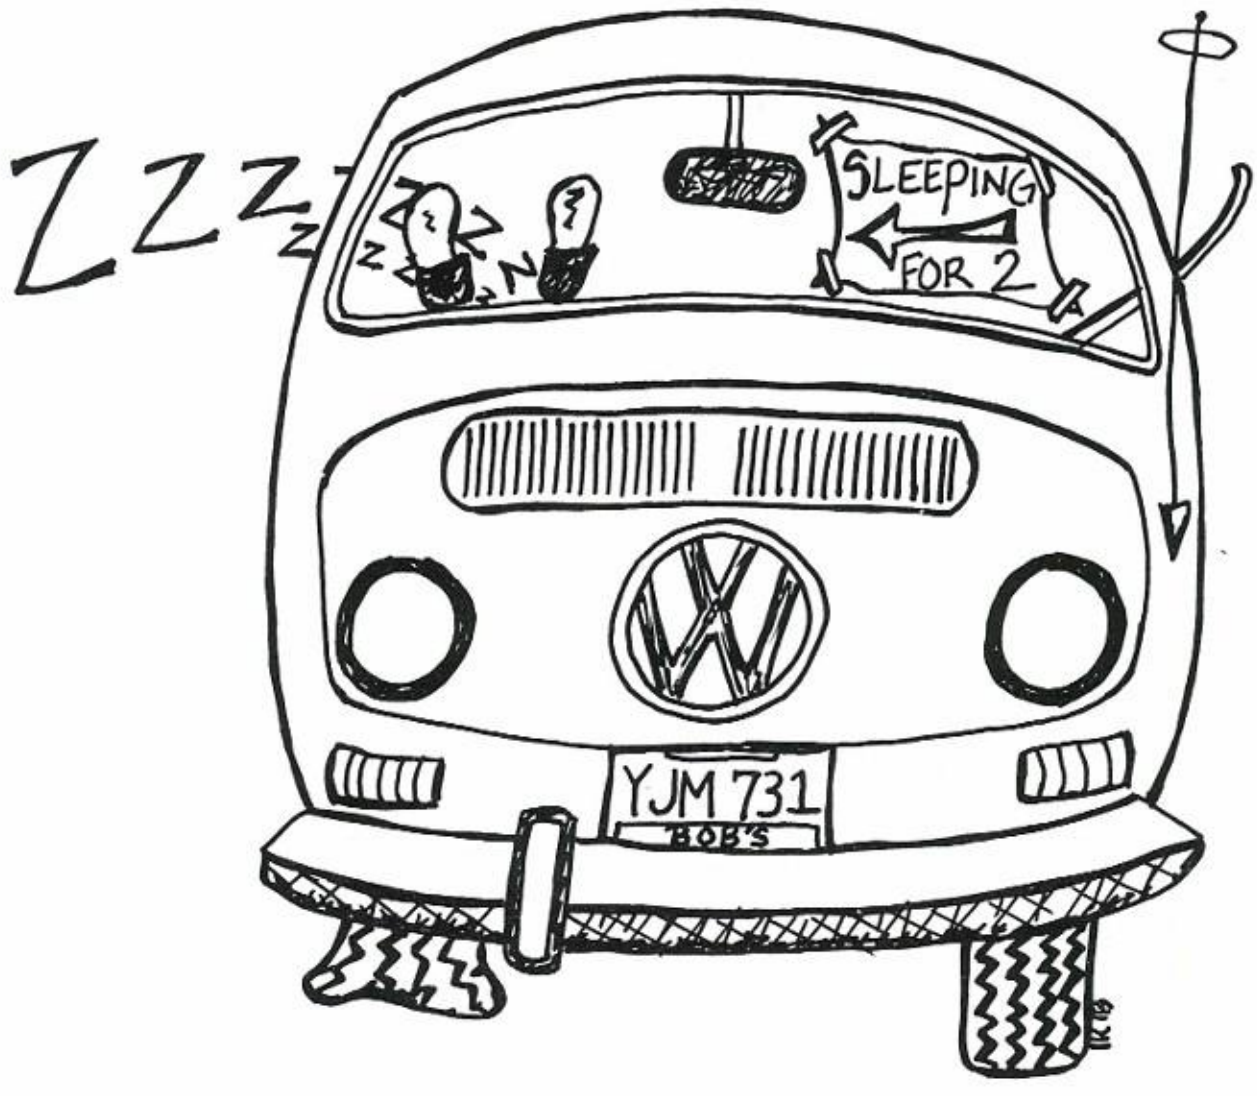
photographers: larry- remember larry, it's asdf!

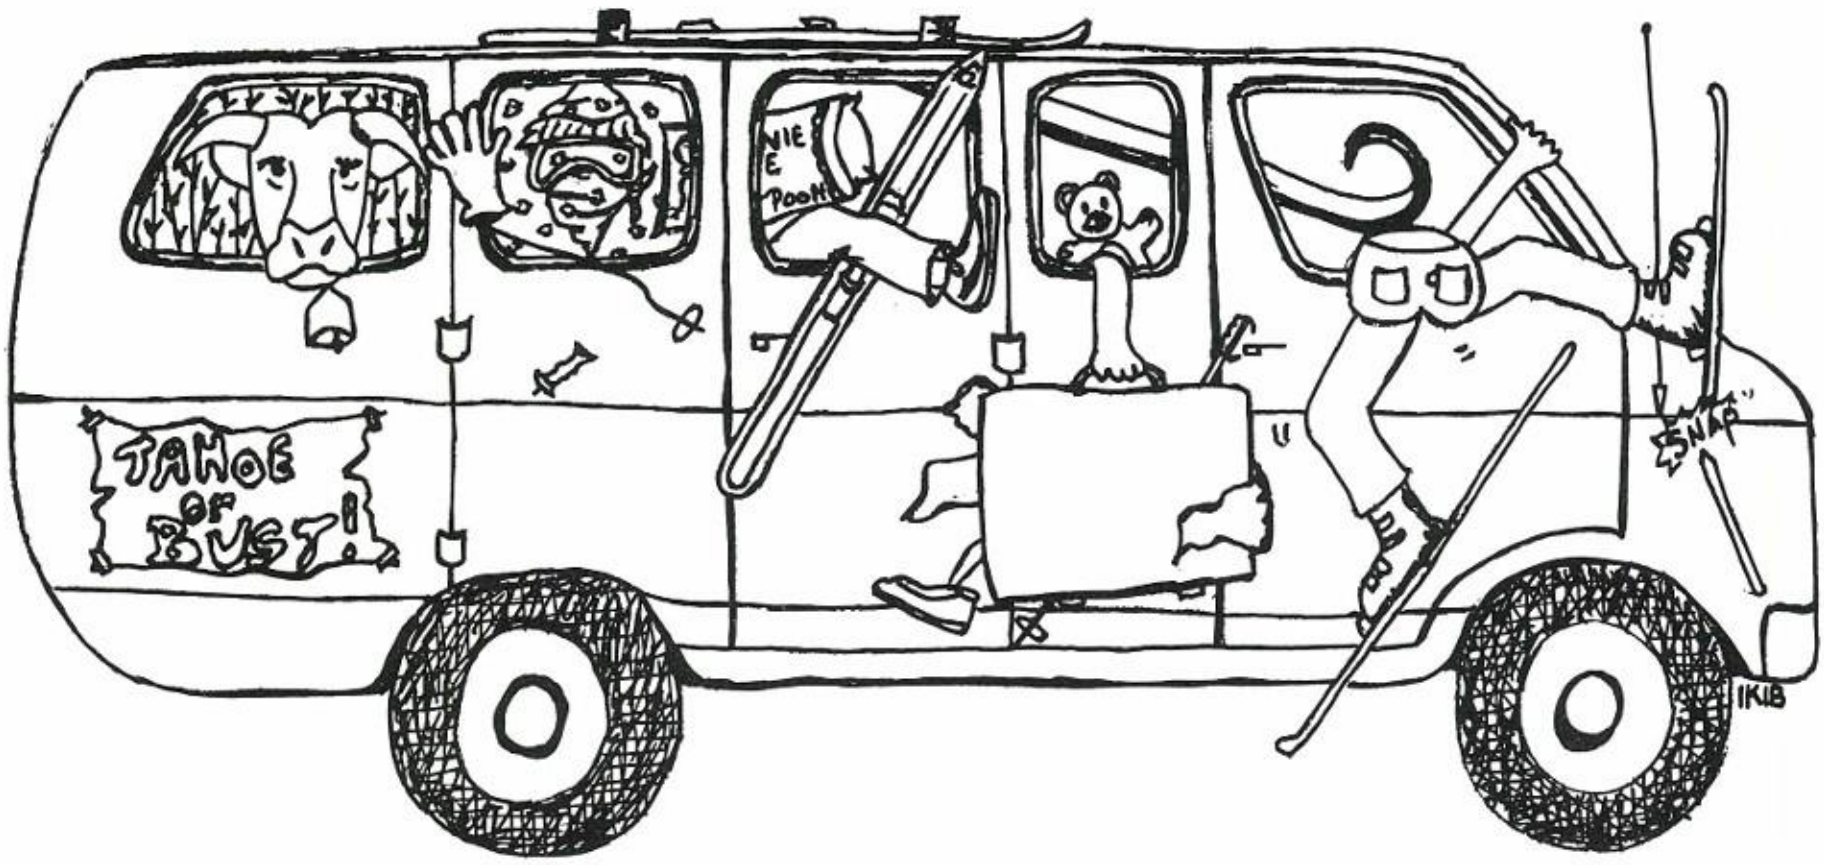
bob d.-hey bob, goin' my way? bob f.- got two left feet?!

supportive editor-becky- how did you manage to keep your sanity?

proof reader-lynne- what ya got hiding behind your back?

advisor-spike- how long has it been, 11 months? seems like forever.





lynbrook valhalla staff- that's us! we're wild and weird, crazy and crude, idiotic and imaginative, rowdy and responsible, looney and loving, creative and close, WORK, WORK, WORK and a little bit of fun (or was it fun, fun, fun and a little bit of work?) that made our year exciting, busy, and definitely productive (you can see the results for yourself!). naturally we came across obstacles, but we heroically pulled through. two of us stuck our noses where they didn't belong and almost got 'em chopped off! (right b.f. and coon)! no work on fridays, of course, because water fights are always more important (especially when mb catches sb off-guard). birthdays need recognizing, faces need to be fed, and spike's brownies need to be cooked normally, not burned! really guys, these cakes showed our a appreciation- happy b-day! scarfing with our fingers was fun. brian, where's your knife? croppers work fine. and with all the guy photographers, it's no wonder the candids are all of girls! but these are the least of our complaints. we, the lynbrook valhalla staff had a special(port-noise) complaint. when's miro gonna be here, or better yet, when's miro's daughter gonna be here?! creating and recalling names is time consuming, educational, and a roll! little taque suits us fine, but it's your decision spike!

as the flowers began to bloom, so did our spring asb. new officers started off the new semester right. john returned as pres, greg vegetated as vice, greg "ho" thought he was a brute with his crutches as sarge, and henry's financial reports were complete but didn't quite get things going at 7:15 am. mr. dexter and his lectures were colorful and workshops with jr and ba(npi) were valuable. is it all that they say it is behind the scenes? . . . only commissioners and officers really know, or do we all?!

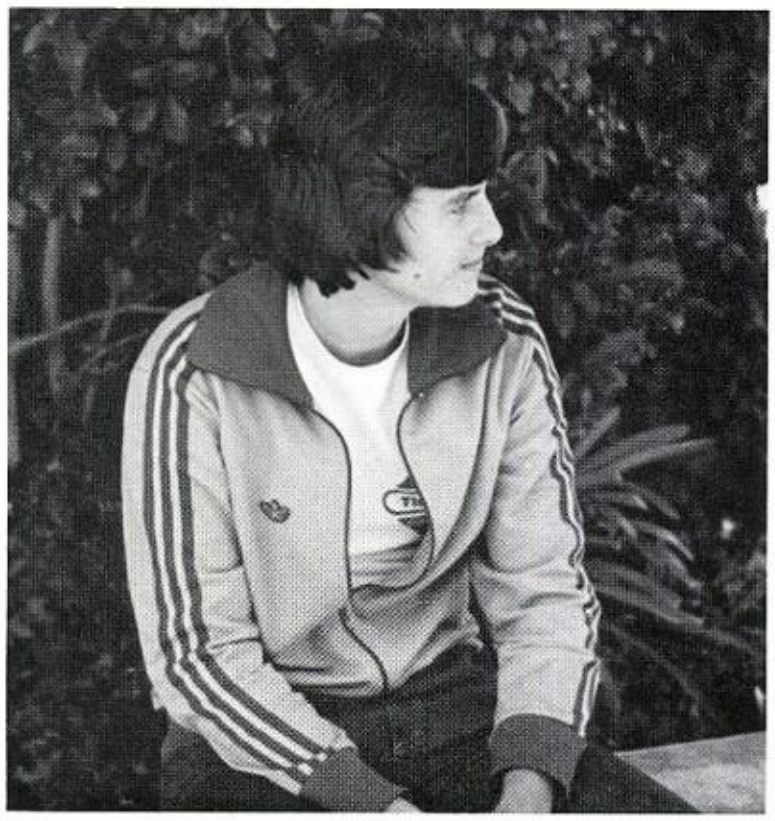
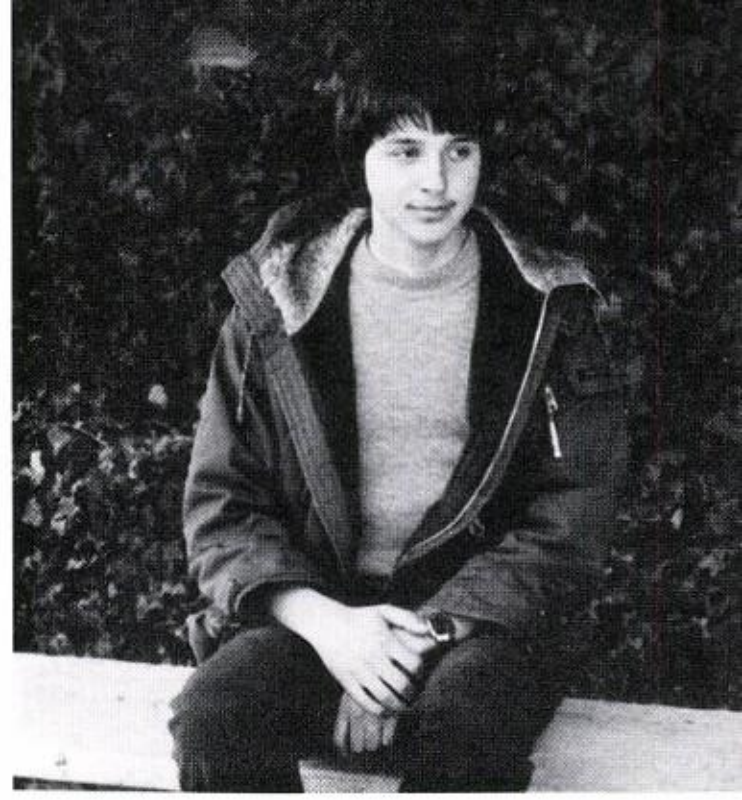
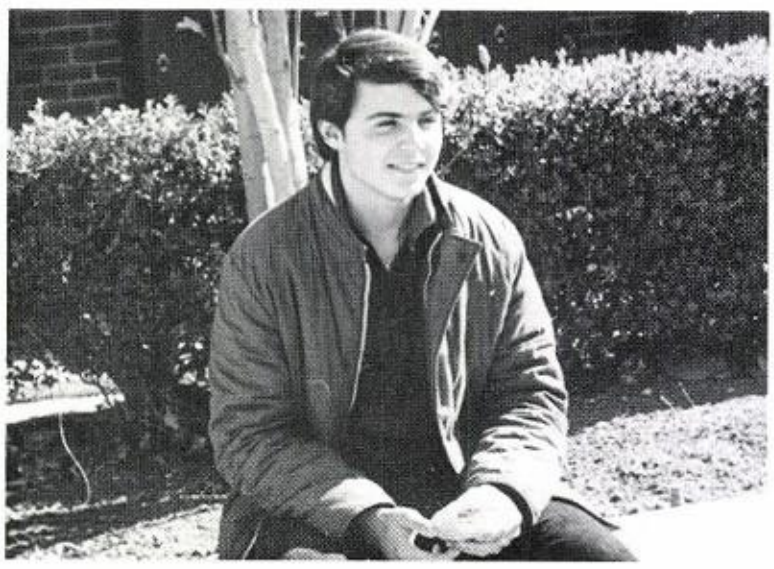
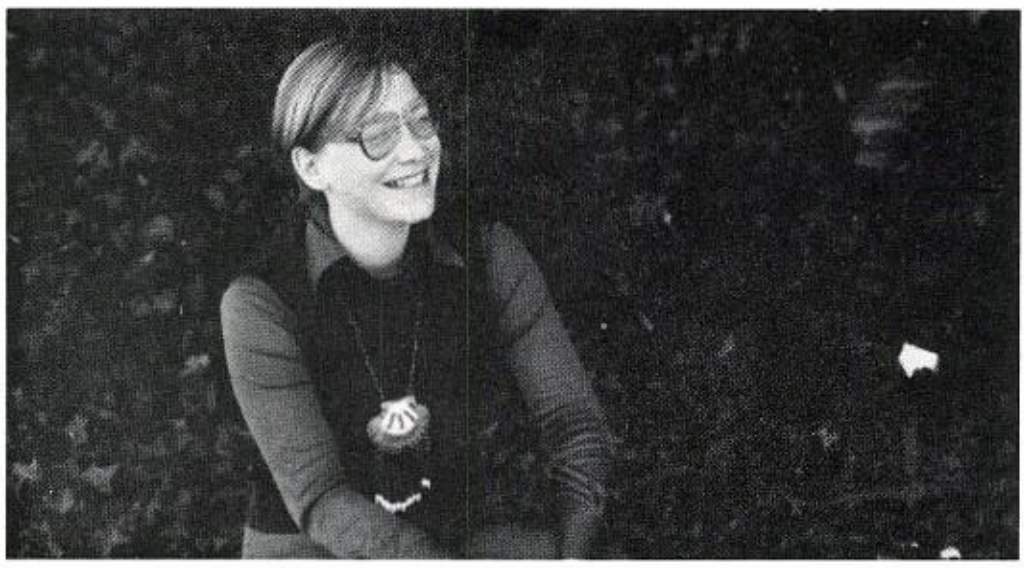
this year lynbrook high school was celebrated enough to have five students that were out of this world! . . . that is the country, rather. we had foreign exchange students from five different countries. andrew speers, from australia, stephen hubenthal and annette thorman were both from germany, and lise nymoen of norway. these four were with us the full year, while javier schmidt from argentina and from brazil were here for the second semester. they participated in international day which was a get-together of all the foreign exchange students in the area. they tried new things made available to them, the american way (the insane way, perhaps) and enjoyed california immensely. afterall, isn't everyone envious of the west coast?









spring play

the spring play was delayed because of winter vacation, and the yearbook deadline was early, so . . . we'd like to pay tribute to all those who tried out for this year's spring play, "you can't take it with you". we know that in the tradition of lynbrook drama department, we can safely say that the play is a success.

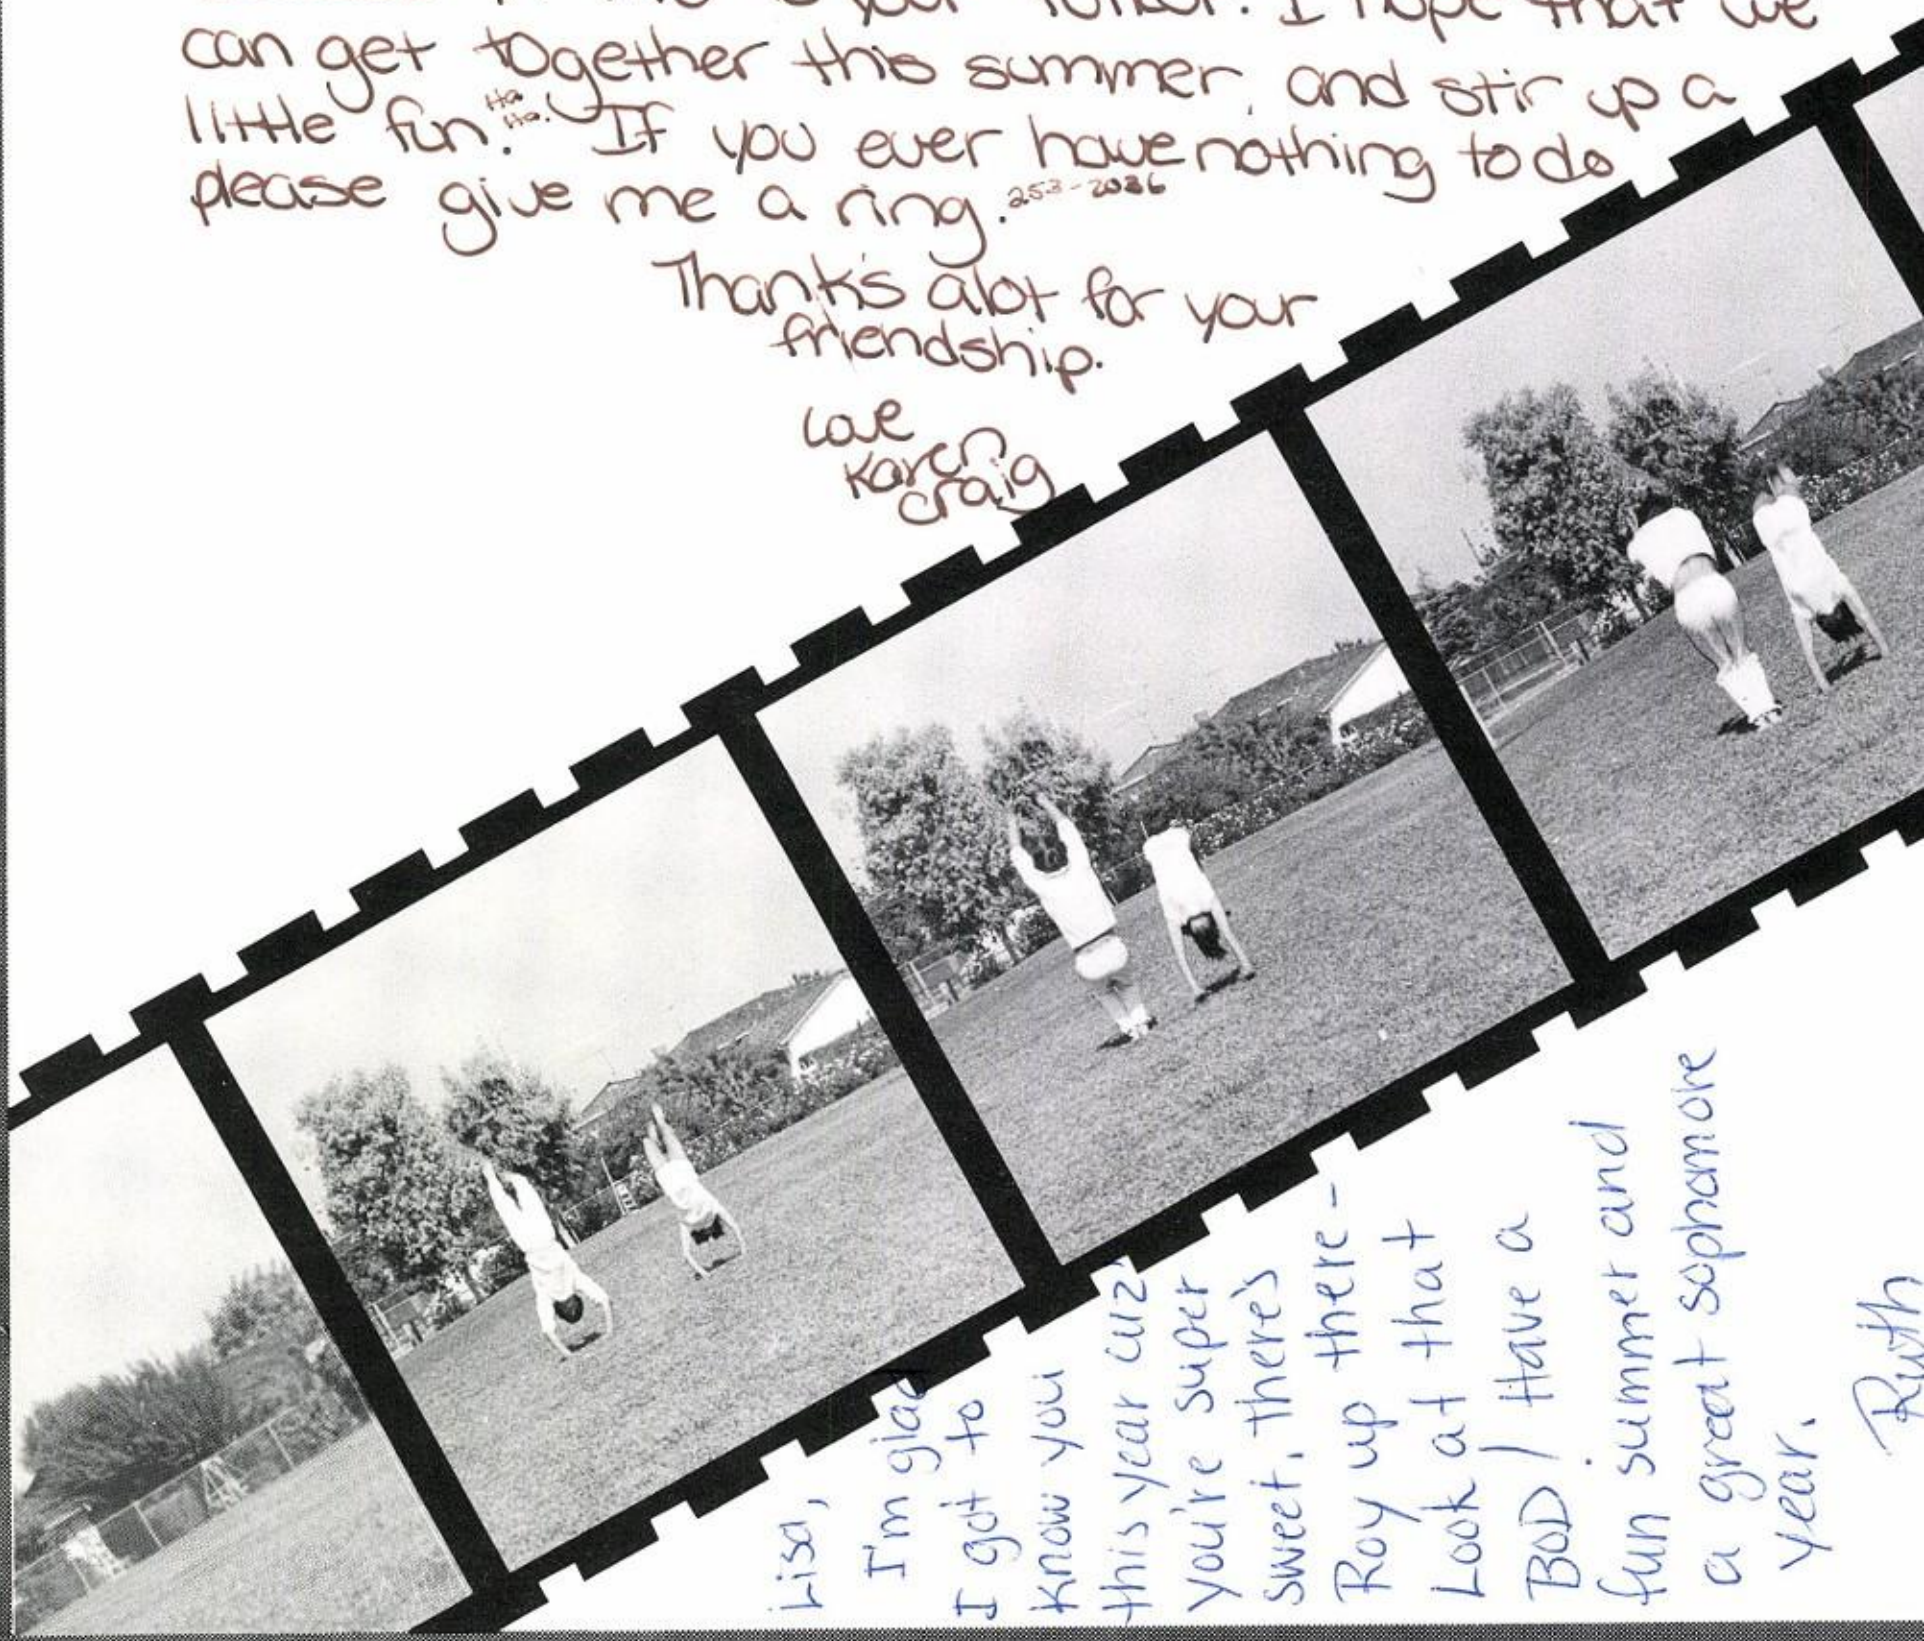
sports

Lisa,

what I want to tell you, would be impossible for me to write down. You have been the most inspiring person, understanding person and the nicest person I feel that I have ever met and that's no jive. I feel that with your personality you can succeed in life to your fullest. I hope that we can get together this summer, and stir up a little fun. Ha Ha. If you ever have nothing to do please give me a ring. 253-2086

Thanks alot for your friendship.

Love
Karen Craig



Lisa,
I'm glad I got to know you this year cuz you're super sweet, there's Roy up there - Look at that BOD! Have a fun summer and a great sophomore year.

Ruth

sports

Lisa,
We may not have been real close friends.
But having you as a friend is better than not having you as a friend at all. Maybe we will be in classes next year since we didn't have any together this year.
Take care through the years.

Kelly

ambition and motivation supported the viking football team as they aimed for achievement. they had a goal. our football players struggled to have a team that did not need a 9-0 record, but needed to have pride, accented by accomplishment. with this in mind, preparations began as early as february, and, after many workshops and many two-a-days, our vikes became the closest and hardest-working team in lynbrook's history. as the preseason warm-ups came to a close, the team looked forward to an exciting year with characters such as cubby, ouzzly, tree, bullwinkle, and of course, coach burke, uttering, "when the bullets go in the gun, the gun goes to your head . . .". as the season progressed, it was apparent that our goal had been reached. we had hoped for a few more upsets, but it was a successful year.

We Love You TOBA

the field hockey team, who is literally "all over the grass", is always working hard. the thing that keeps them going is their jokes (especially the rude ones). steve martin helps bind the teams together, making one big mob of wiiild and craaazy women. if you happen to hear some yugoslavian mumbles on campus you can bet it'll be a hockey player (especially if they're wearing those cute little skirts). lotsa spirit and a quick, tough team is what all their opponents had to face and how could our hockey team ever lose with a dynamic coach like toba?!

with little support from the fans, late bear-scares, a number one player out for the season and a nurckey for a coach, the tennis team still had an excellent season. lotsa love and latsa racquet (npi) complimented these real swingers (pi) and kept them on the ball (npi). afternoon practices kept the girls in shape (when vicki showed up for the whole thing). they were all in there (peggy, half-way) trying hard and able to show off those efforts. they looked hot in their new uniforms but more important, they looked hot playing tennis (that's what they came out for, wasn't it?).

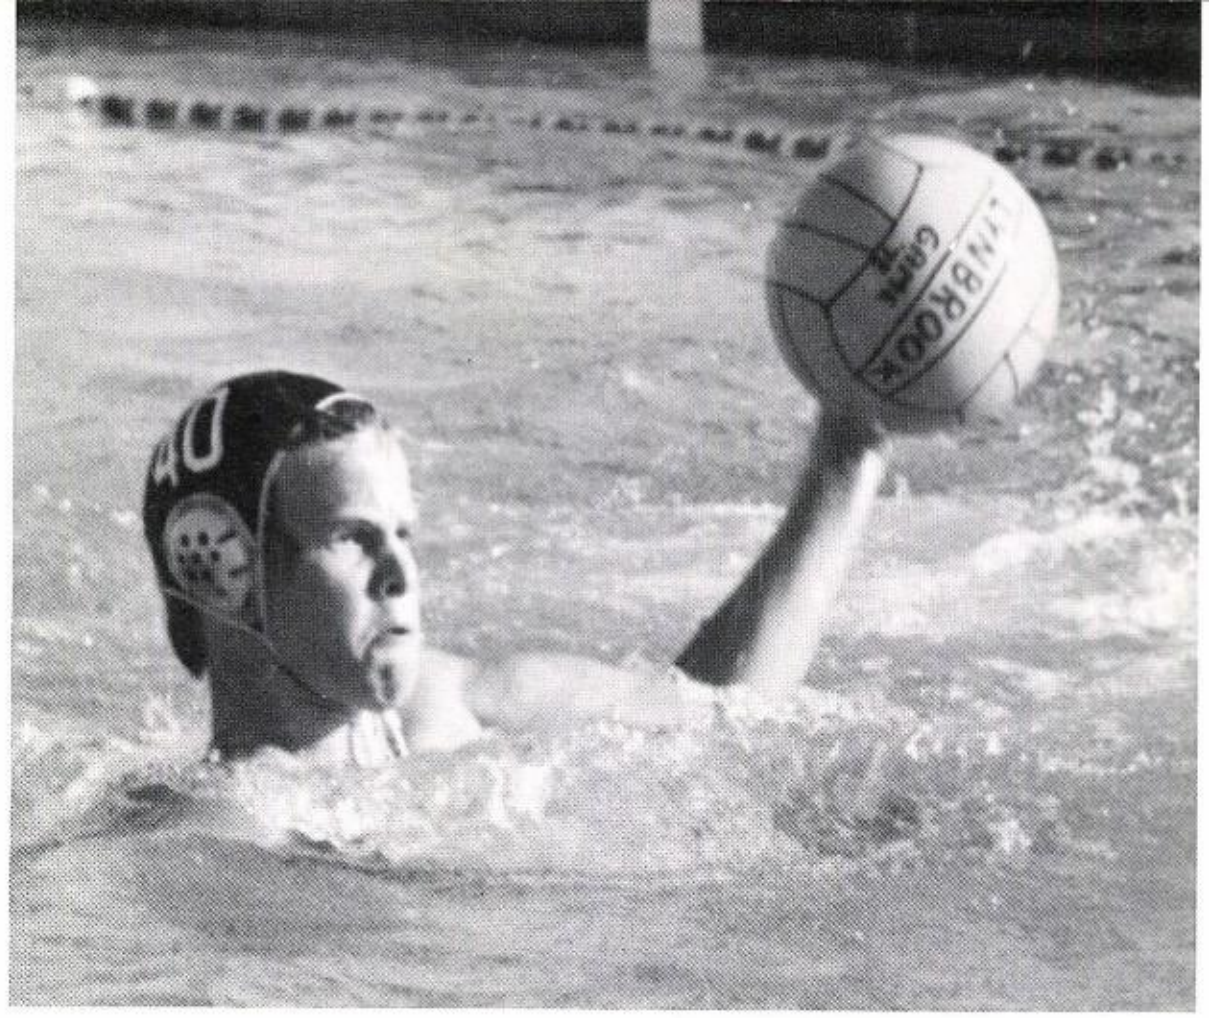
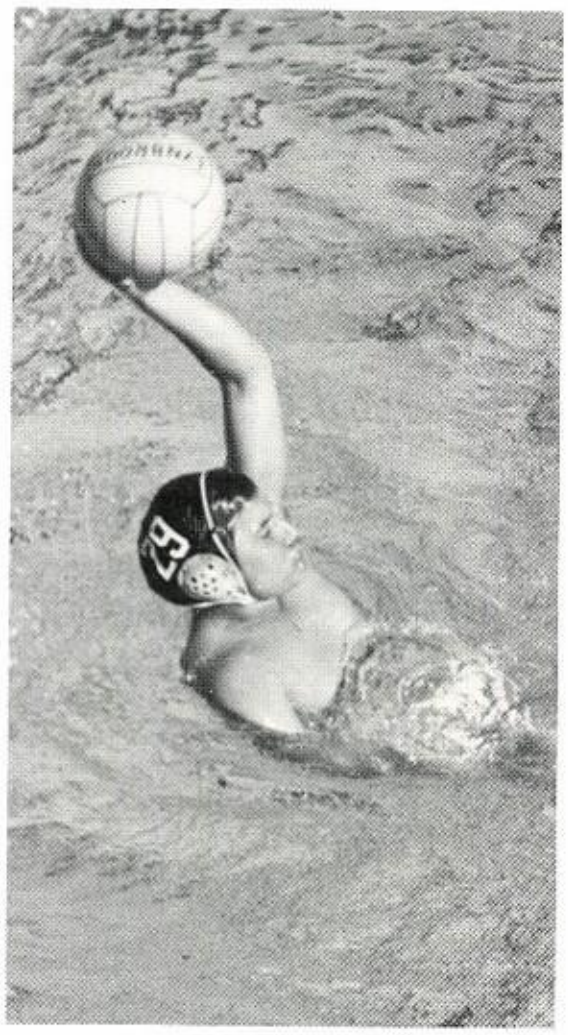
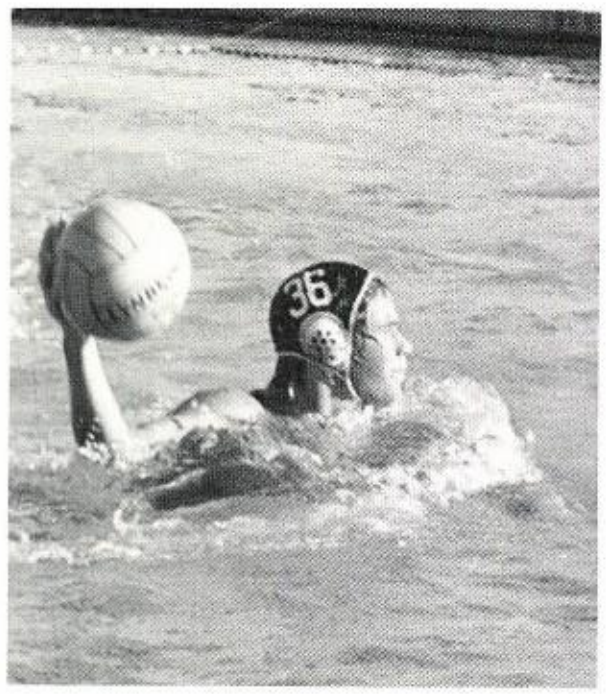
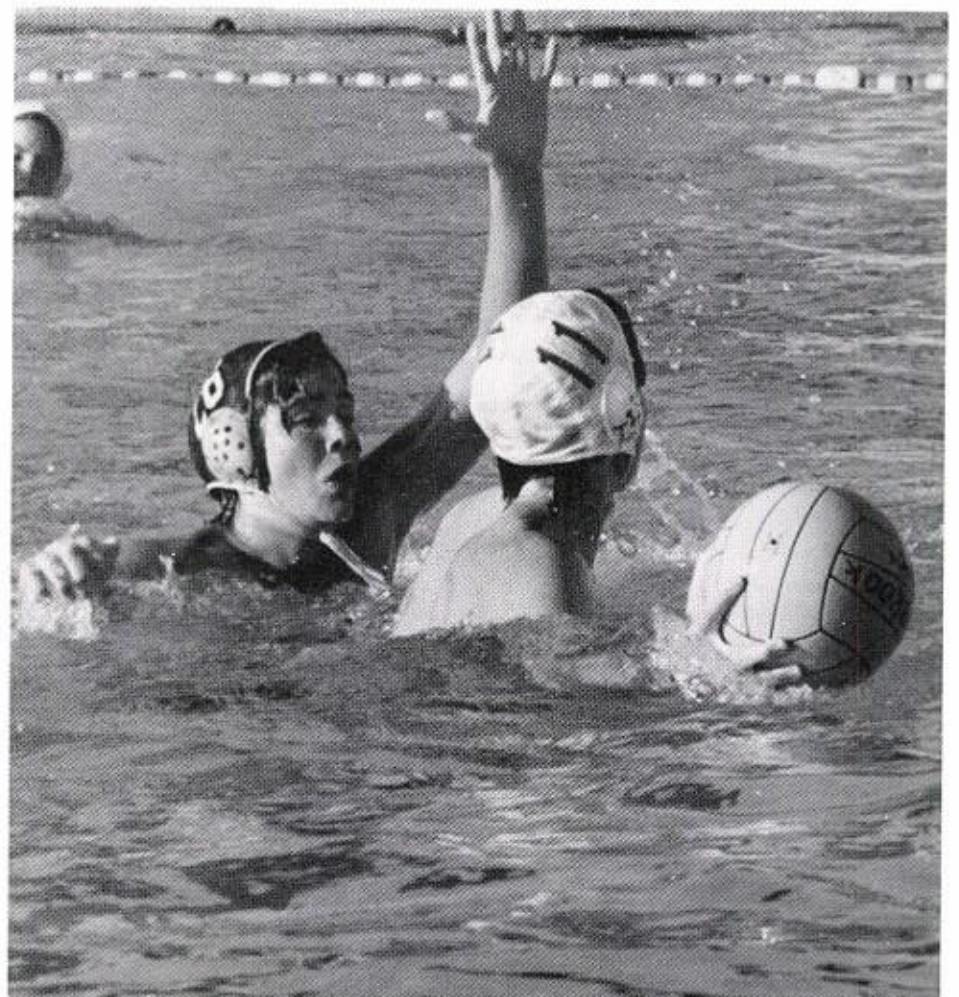
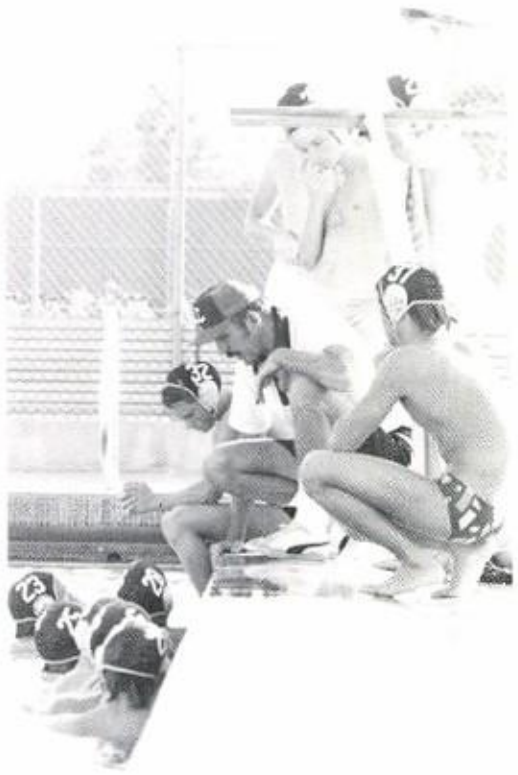
water polo











the viking poloists fought a rough but victorious fight this year. dave led the team under the fantastic coach, steve spencer. their excellent record reads 7 wins and 1 loss, first place title in d.a.l. for the first time in lynbrook history, and third place in state ranking. they practiced twice a day, but only once while conscious (it's cold at 6:45 am) frosh??soph, led by steve and kent, was also wrapped it up with a supreme record-second in league. underwater survival comes instinctively for fish, but not so for lhs water polo teams. they earned their success and floated right up to the top!

volley-ball

bump, set and spike to victory! three famous words of the lhs volleyball team. they work hard under their devoted coaches: one makes a habit of wearing fluorescent underwear and one wears nothing at all. coach row always loved height (what happened to the varsity team?), but they caught a winning streak and wouldn't let it go. practices gave the girls a workout, highlighted by the "wallsitting". they're always on the ball (no pun intended) and who knows what volleyball players do in their spare time (where'd you get those hickeys, c and m?).

did you see your cees play? if you did you must be well aware that dan neuman, mvp of the league, lead the team to a 12-0 record and kept the key smelly at all times. the cees worked well as a team and were confident all season even when down by 11 points at half against tino. andy got the award for the most consecutive rebounds in a row and consecutive missed shots in a row. rock a little softer on those lay-ups (saratoga) and you might be able to show off to your fan club next year, if you start.

the dees were also lead by the fantastic mvp of the league cliff young, for the second year in a row. they were inspired by "es une" arthur and the excellent speeches given by their coach before, during and after the games along with the ones throughout all the practices. the whole season was enjoyable for the team but next year ron if you want to go outside, open the door first.

basketball

this year's varsity basketball team was one of the biggest in lhs history, not to mention their superb attitude. strategically, the good rebounding, "road runners" and bad (oops!) added to the excitement of the season. practices were always fun among the ball-busters, hunter's head slam, and the juniors constantly blitzing the seniors in drills (right, guys?). crunch-n-munch, flying hawaiin, black magic, and the bacardi kid each contributed his share, but we're all still wondering . . . what do you feed hannah before scrimmages?! jayvee had a good record, as well. they had good support from the cheerleaders and fans. they worked hard aiming for success this season. they were a sophomore dominated team and their future seasons look promising.

the varsity team had a stroke of bad luck this year when a few of their players were injured. they had the talent, but . . . our soccer team had potential and with some returning skill should work their way upward for next year. basketball looks spiff in their ties but soccer looks beaut in their shades chunky, reek, cone, shoby, and kre make up the bulk of the team and when they remember to keep their pants on practice is successful. the jayvees had an enjoyable, winning season when they weren't swimming around in the mud puddles. when game time rolled around, this clean cut bunch of guys (ha ha!) got down to some serious soccer playing. They can also be proud of some excellent preseason warm-up games (right, jim?). they were supported well (right, girls?). the highlight of the freshman team this year was when they beat the jayvee team. what a surprise! the frosh worked well together and their future looks promising.

lynbrook's girls varsity basketball team swept the courts with a great record once again. inspite of all the injuries (how's the nose, kb?) and sicknesses they stuck out their season. when stober says no skiing, partying, or sex before games, she means it! this year the team traveled to santa cruz . . . no, not for the beaches, for a tournament. they looked sharp in their classy adida sweats, but could often be found wearing grungy overalls or strange looking hats. yes, these are our crazy bunch of jockettes, who work hard (good shot gunner!) and always do well, but they'd do even better if cooke could jump a little higher than two inches. the jayvee girls went undefeated this bb season. coach nichols keeps the team in shape with her not-so-quiet voice and you can always spot the bright red nervous rash she gets (but only when she's nervous). hyper shore was high scorer of the team and mcguin"ass" had a lot to offer. enough shootin' the hoop (ha ha!), way to beat 'em, basketball!

dave robertson, rob decker, dan ebbesen, guy gummow, front row: bob yang, ken buciak, bill beck, allan linney, roy tanig mike pope, jeff plecq, dave slavin.

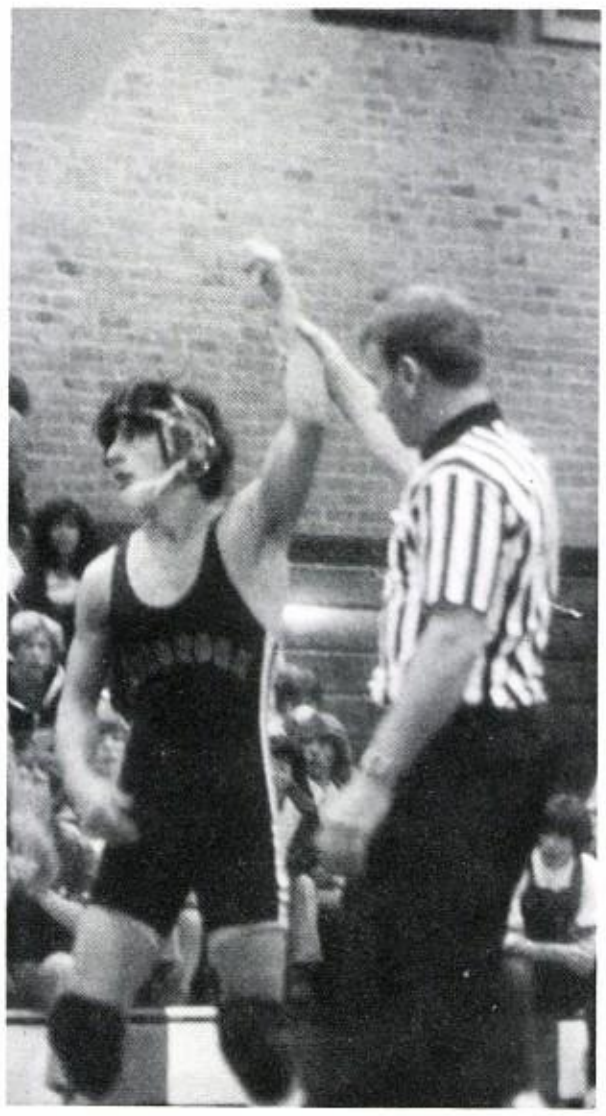
wrestling



when the team isn't "pulling any kalinins" they're doing a super job. bad refs didn't help the season but our wrestlers are tough. will power is hard to maintain when they are starving to make weight (gee that cake looks good!) we caught a couple of guys sleeping during practice, but everyone passes out after "iron man". our wrestling team pours on the steam, literally—the heat gets turned up in the exercise room so it's like wrestling in a sauna. remember guys, it's the pins that make the wins and you know how to knock 'em flat.

j.v.: top: jeri jefferies, marie girardot, lori bancroft, sheryl dagang, kelly gomes, terrie bangen, martha bernyk. middle row: margie friccero, lori blackwood, kim wakefield, sherry saba, beth zurcher, june rheingrover. bottom row: debbie grack, heide nunes, courtney martin, laura spaugh. mary fernandes, ruth fernandes, leigh howell. coaches: jim nelson and our don varsity started out this season fresh. new talent and new coaches looked promising. lhs never had a losing team, but our girls soccer team just couldn't score enough. ties, ties and more ties are acceptable, but don't help the record. star freshman, jennifer, led the team from her little corner in the back field. overtime became regular, leaving the poor jayvee team to play in the dark (it's hard when you can't see the ball.). wanger led the jayvee defense while grackers sparked the offense. homestead was known for lifting the jayvee's spirit (right, girls?). coaches will be coaches, but the assistant coach's job is to stand there and look good (you pass, don). "we try harder!" says a jayvee team member (thanx, sb), but harder is relative . . .

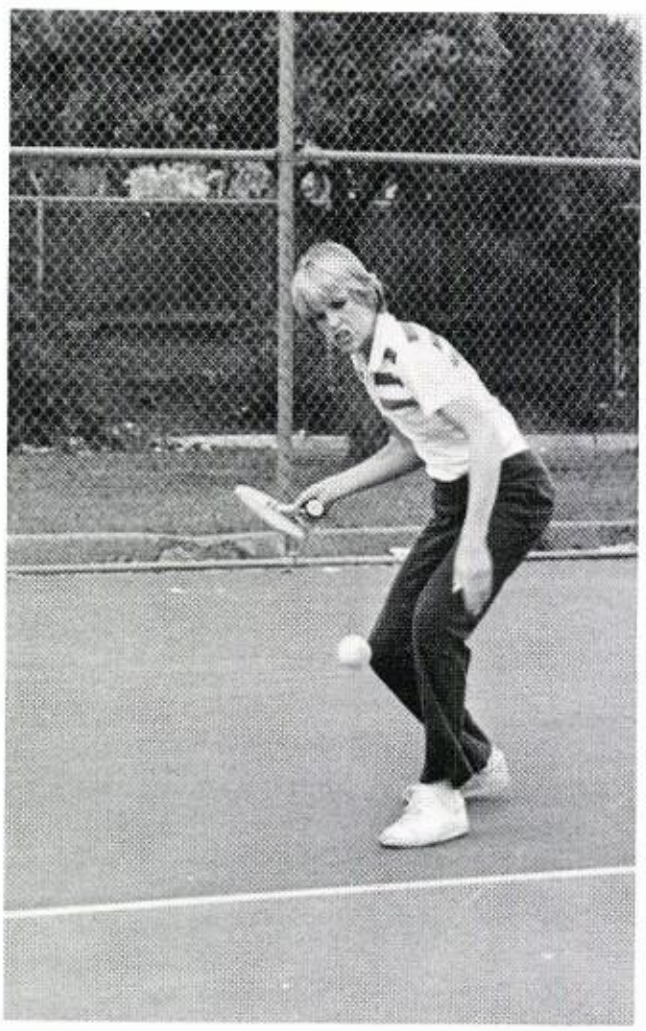
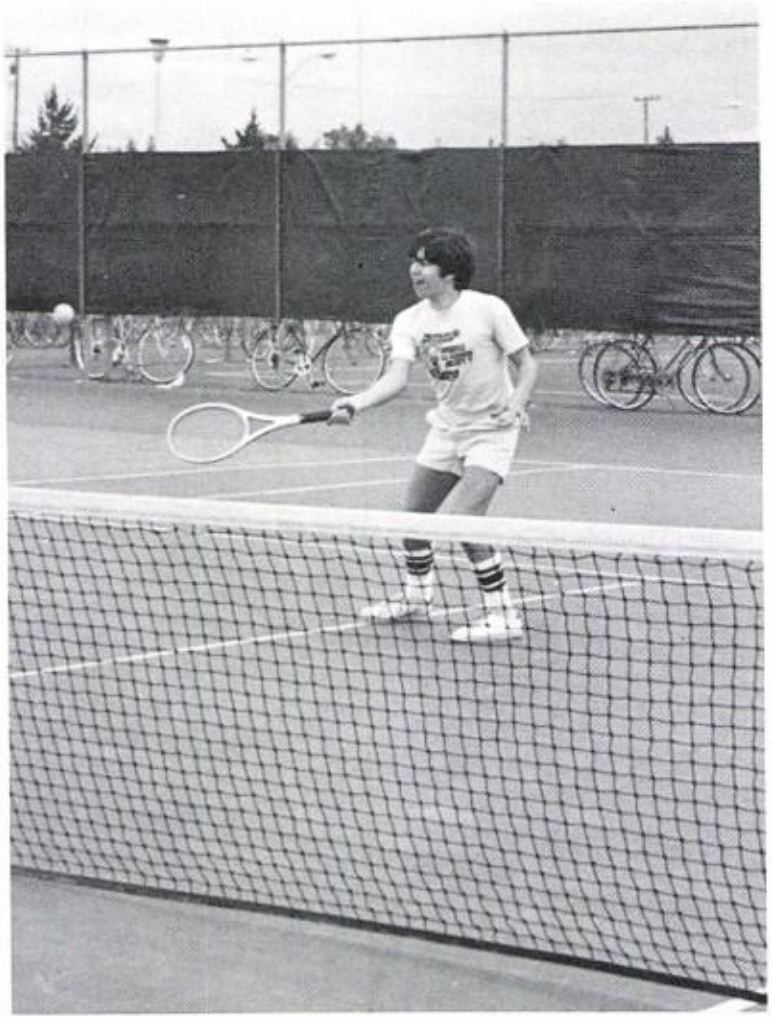
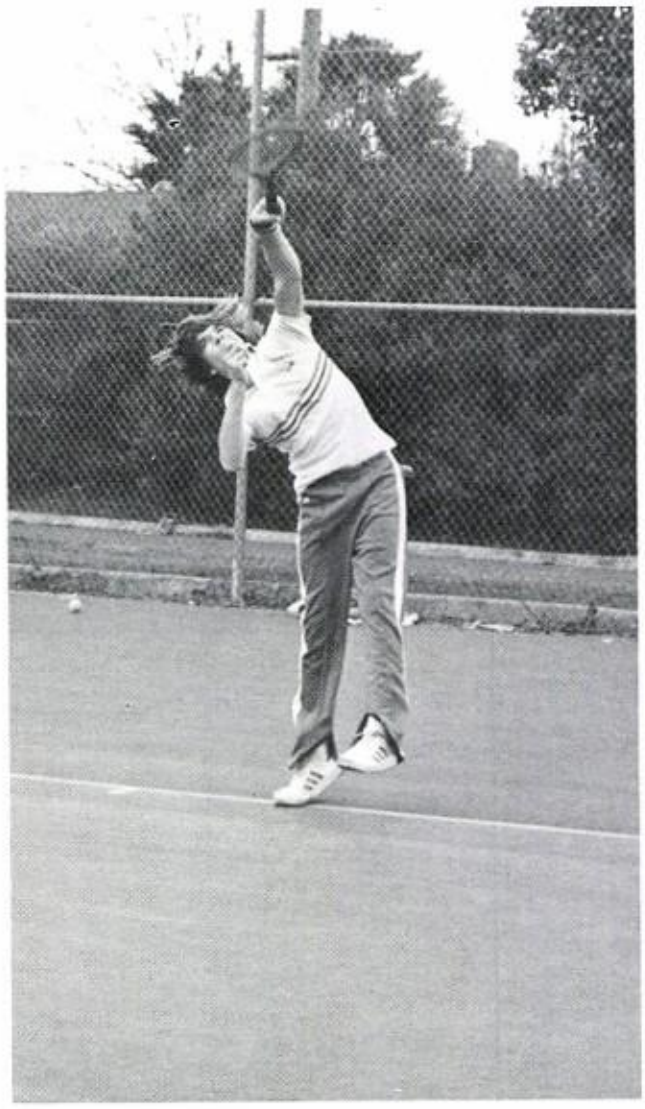
the boys' tennis team was raring to go as the weather took a turn this year. lotsa love and lotsa racquet (npi) complimented these real swingers and kept them on the ball (npi). running around those green fields kept the guys in shape, they worked hard and their devoted efforts showed in court, oops!, on the courts!







gymnastics

this year had a great, groovy, graceful girls' gymnastics team, inspite of the several cute distractions, right roy? the varsity team is aiming for the league title and the jayvee team looks promising. even though ando was "pg", she contributed a lot. roger was a brute, how ya feeling, vicky? for some real action, you should see our girls tumbling, swinging, balancing, vaulting, and most of the time . . . winning!

speedy gonzales would have been embarrassed if he had competed with the lhs track team. track means running and running it right means running it fast! of course there is also jumping and throwing, not to mention getting out of breath! endurance is a key word where these athletes are concerned. the relay team was heightened by great handoffs between kitz and kitz. backer better watch those runners! fagetti, half-away, and whip contributed lots in meets but for some reason the girls never managed to stick around until practice was over. once again lynbrook remained the dal champs!

swimming

faster than a paddling duck, stronger than still water's waves, swimming to success is the name of the game, or the sport, as the case may be. our team went for ccs for the second year in a row. the relay team had national times, which sure looks good on the record! leading man, chris, was only a junior, pretty impressive, huh? well, we were impressed! and darn proud, too!

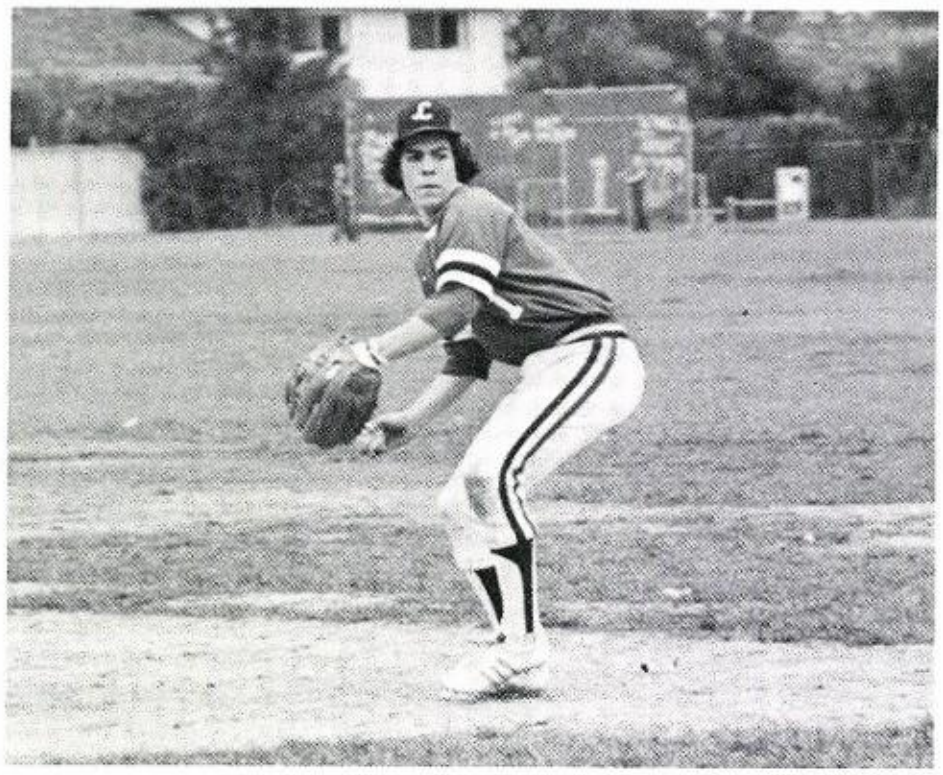
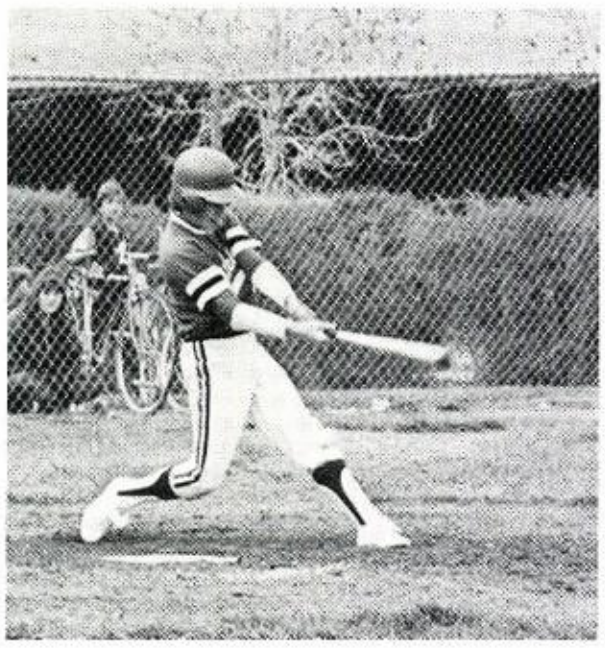
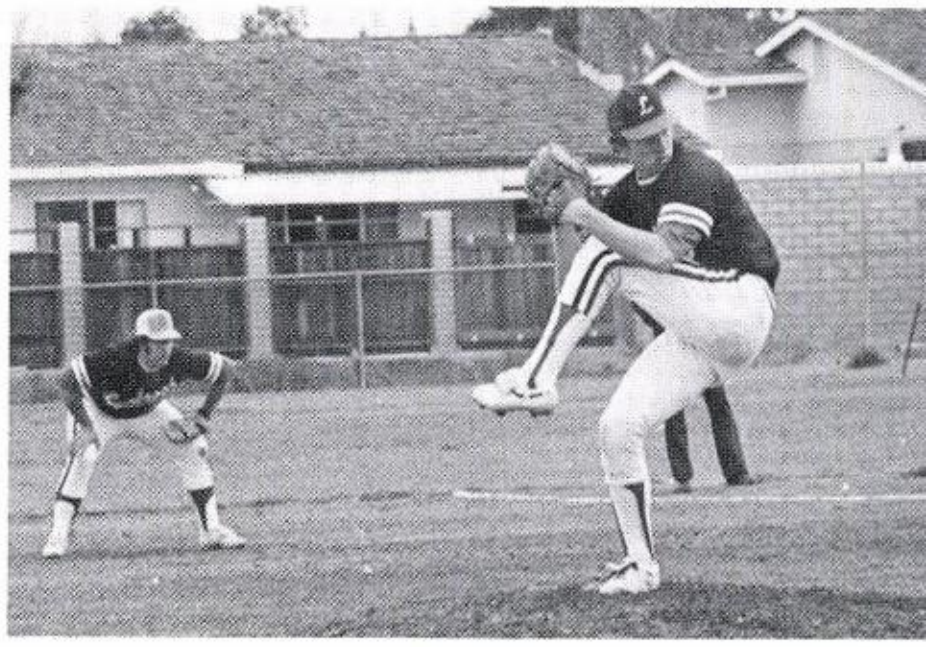
baseball

this year's varsity team looked outstanding at the start of the season. they had many returning players from last year's team and with the addition of many talented newcomers we looked to be one of the two top teams in a tough league. some turf time was spent improving tans. you have to look good, right huntz? terrie and june took care to score with precision this season. what draft choices? what can you say about the jv team - just look at their future. what a bunch of zips.







Lisa! I hope your year was as great as mine. Maybe I'll see you over the summer. Hope to see ya in some of my classes next year.
Love!

where would we be without steve? (that's everybody's favorite, steve garvey!) probably out on the field playing softball! or trying at least. working as a team was important, once you defined what you were working at. sometimes they weren't sure, homeruns are what everyone dreamed about (really?). the team needed those shiney new white balls and their favorite bats (where's the pink one?). if a game was to turn out right they couldn't do without their seeds and happy days. barefeet on the field was a sure sign of spring. they tried to avoid errors but sometimes made errors avoiding them. but baseball, oops! *soft*ball was fun.

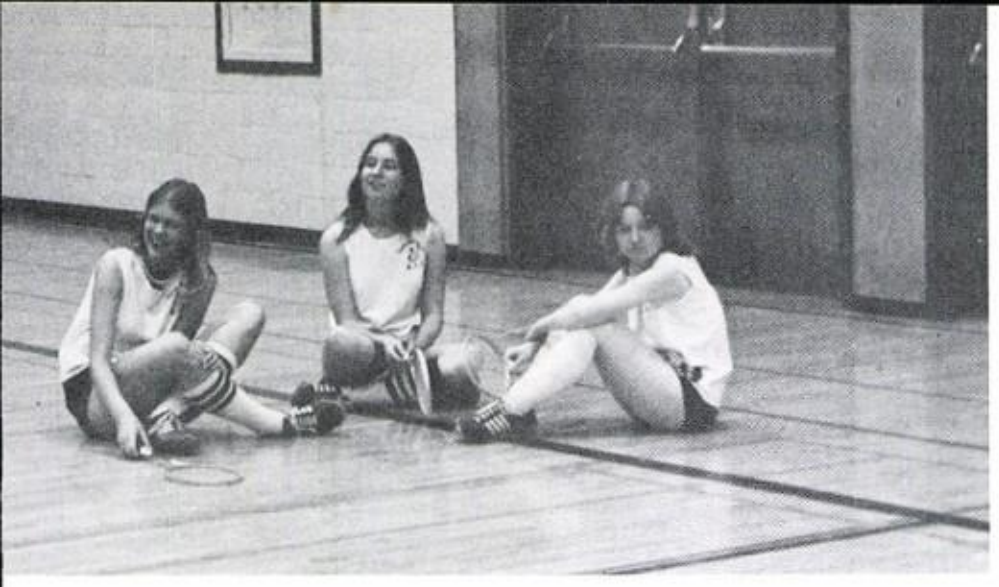
badminton



this year's lhs badmitton team is mostly made up of last year's returning players. they are full of life and have experience backing them. for the first year, guys, that is male persons, participated in this sport. outstanding players contributed a lot and there's a lot more skill involved than us outsiders seem to think. so, if you're playing to win, keep your eye on the birdie!

The easy roads are crowded
And level trails are jammed.
Pleasant little streams
With drifting folk are crammed
In the distance
But off where it's rocky
And you get a better view You'll find the ranks are thinning
And the travelers are few.
The trail becomes steeper
It becomes a harder pull
The end results in adventure
For the never wavering few.

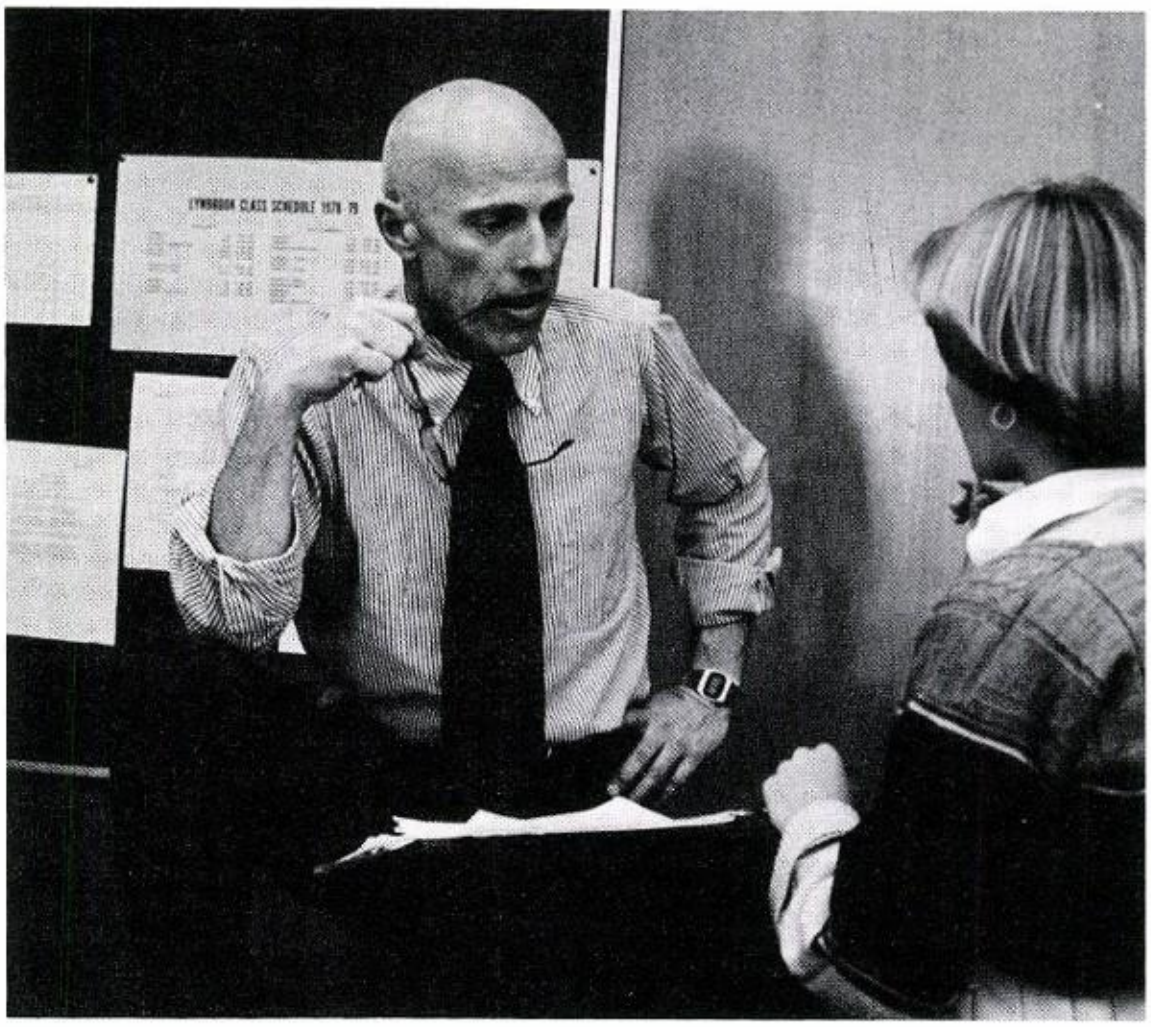
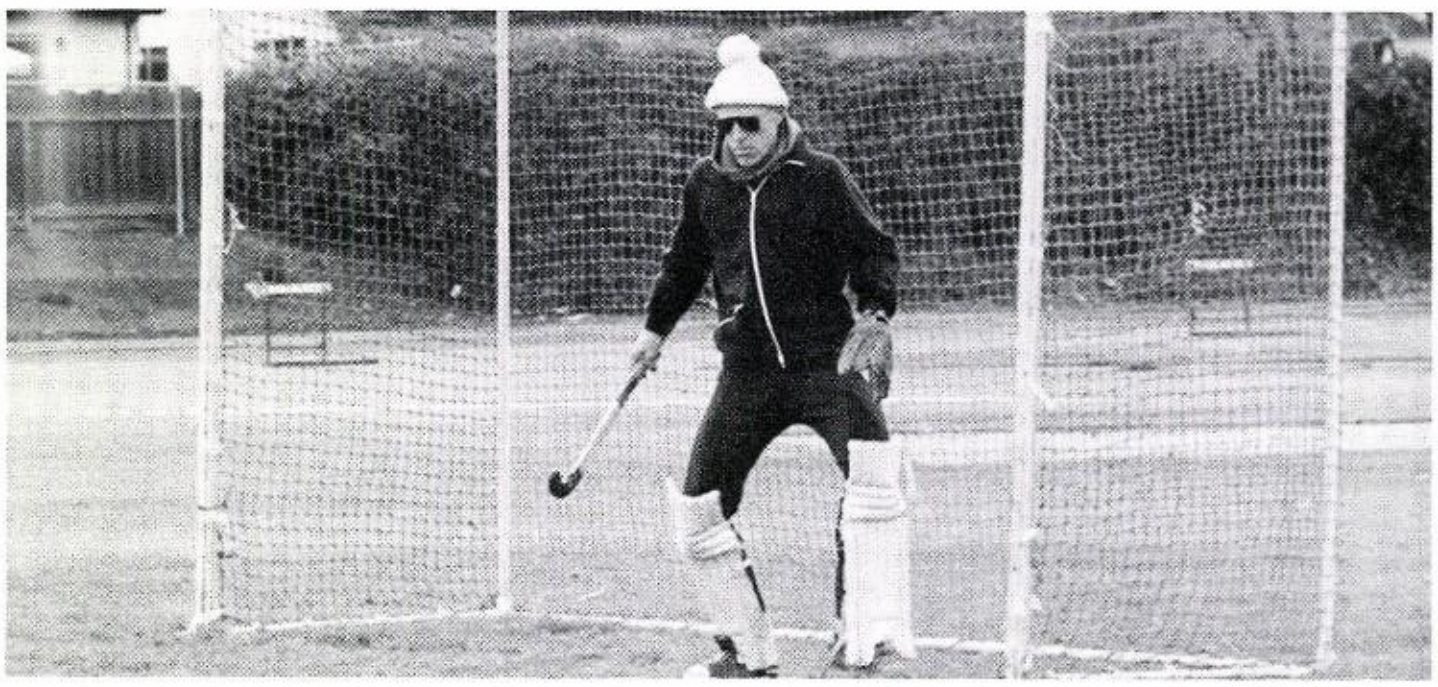
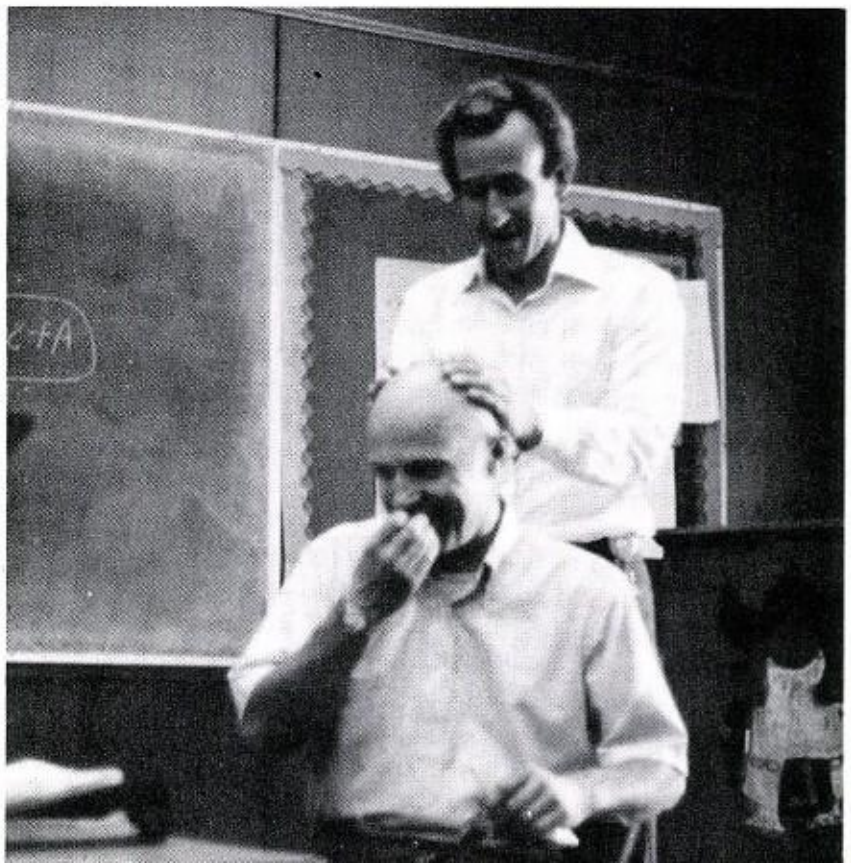
bernie



energetic, exciting, stimulating, challenging, demanding, envigorating, dynamic, and giving. these qualities exist in most new teachers; however, as the years pass many of these can be lost in varying degrees as patience turns to impatience. bernie hubbard has taught for almost 30 years and has been at lynbrook since it opened. he exhibits all of these qualities with no diminuation. he is truly admired and respected by both staff and students. teachers look at bernie and see that one can exist well in teaching for an entire career. students enter his classes with many feelings, awe, fear, respect and eagerness. they leave knowing full well that they have learned a tremendous amount and that behind all his ranting and raving and gyration is a very warm and friendly person. it is this person, mr. bernie hubbard, that we wish to honor. we thank you, hubby, and we love you, the lynbrook community





mr. hubbard

in a classroom numbered 20,
you can see most any day,
the most unusual animal in all the school, they say!

while most folks call it a teacher,
we all know it's proper name:
"the ferocious mr. hubbard" whom no man could ever tame!

he paces round the classroom,
like a wild beast in a cage.
his victims cower 'neath their desks,
as he bellows out with rage;

"larson speak!" "hey you plug in!"
larson looks half dead.
hubbard grins most wickedly,
"did you hear what i said?"

we all watch with bated breath, as hubbard stalks his prey.
larson gulps not once, but twice,
and then we hear him say:
"my essay is on why,
all cycles should be banned."
hubbard's face shows shocked surprise, he takes a puzzled stand.

"that's pretty good . . . well it will do."
he tries to keep his cool, but we all know that he approves:
larson brags to all the school!

sometimes old hubbs goes crazy,
if only for a day,
and madly he will NP
anyone that's in his way!

but all in all he's not too bad,
he puts up with a lot.
remember beauty tamed the beast, and beauty's what he's got!

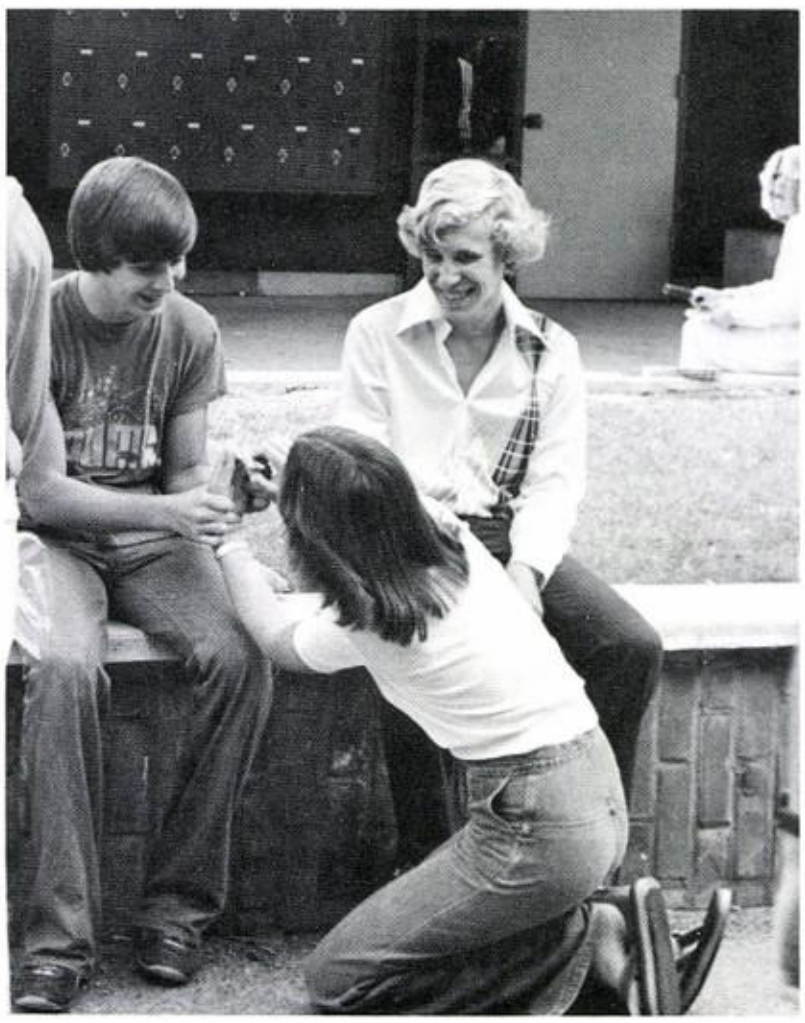
"the rainbow is always more beautiful than the pot of gold at the end of it, because the rainbow is now and the pot of gold never turn out to be quite what we expected" hugh prather.

what lies beside that pot of gold is beyond our knowledge but the rainbow is now and there is no time like the present. it is a time to stop and take a look at ourselves, to see where we are going; it is a time to ponder, to dream of the patterns we've incorporated, it is time to break away and leave those patterns behind us. we abandon the quiet corners where we sat with a bag lunch, the shaded planters where we tried to study and the snack bar that we had to visit for one last time.



we realize that the teachers who gave us referrals and wouldn't change b plusses to a minuses weren't so bad after all. shoving our way through the cafeteria lines became a habit and now that memory takes a stab at our heart too (that's where all our high school memories lie, isn't it?) "the moments may be temporary but the memories are forever . . . " i read that once (probably in a yearbook). this is a time to leave your shell seated at that picnic table or on those steps to step out of it (your shell that is) and walk away slowly, turning only to take that one last glance over your shoulder. as that momentary glance recaptures the treasured memories of the '78 '79 year we speculate that when we return, it will be a different season, a different grade, possibly a new place, perhaps even a new world and definitely a new pattern.

I'm really glad our freshman year is finally over. It was fun knowing ya for another year. Have a great summer + fun in Hawaii. Wouldn't what be great if we ended up in the same condominium on Maui! That would be a blast. Mr. Yearly is a dick.

Have a good one,

luv,

Missy

Lisa, what's up? Well I really hope you have a great summer & stay out of trouble. Remember what happens in Vegas stays in Vegas. Remember when we had so much fun & didn't get caught. Remember when we were too wasted & don't know what we did. Remember when you threw up on me. Remember when you passed out on the floor. Remember when I got my period. Remember when I had to walk home from school because I missed the bus. Remember when I got my period. Remember when I got my period. Remember when I got my period

Well where can I start babe
I guess its been about 2½ years know hasn't it. This year is finally over 3 days too. It's been a great year even though little quarrells when I can't wait for this summer to come. Party time oops. Well speak of the devil look who coming into to family room. Look out. I'm so happy know that everything is going -prima. Let keep it up and don't slip-up on our relationship sweets. I willing to give you my whole life babe. It seems I'm in love not like love but love. your tin grin and hopefully the same for you. You know what I think is no long their what can I do I can push or kiss as hard as I want know to bad hah: I'm sorry that didn't make sense about your tin grin. Your -picture is excellent, first no that's not like Lisa, But I was wrong damn your look look like you use cracking up. Take me to Give me some shrinky medicine and put in pocket so I can crawl up and give you a peck while. Wow I cant Janice wait for this back yard. Mark and I cant wait for some money thank god. I get company. I cant Jag wait for my games to start. I going get to earn some money. I best get some good money Jag and the next. My car is your right, right. I guess their going to wait for and next. I hope Lisa are really your eyes set or boggling your brain any-graduate in '82 friend of yours hah. I hope that would be great. These next three years be the best year of your life or the winners always finish first as they Sorry about the spelling know sweet cheeks.

Love ya Always
Not only your stupid
your true friend forever
Love Todd

I Love you Lisa Smith yours + that

Lisa,
I'm really glad we got to be friends this year. You're such a sweet person. It's too bad we had to be stuck with Mr. Year's breath the whole year. But it looks like we made it. Hope your summer is as great as mine. Have a totally great one. If you get bored call me up.

Love ya, Jen

Lisa,
Science was really great especially after I got to know you. I wish we could be friends because you really have a great personality, maybe I'll see ya this summer. O.K

Take care
Fred Snyder
